

Nick Ivanoff, PE
July 15, 2014

Nick Ivanoff is the President and Chief Executive Officer of Ammann & Whitney, a 67 year old E/A firm headquartered in New York City, with nine offices located along the eastern seaboard from Miami to Boston. Nick has technical, marketing, administrative and financial responsibility for company operations worldwide. He is a registered professional engineer and professional planner with 39 years of experience, who holds a BS in Civil Engineering and MS in Traffic Engineering and Transportation Planning, both from the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn.

During his tenure at Ammann & Whitney, Nick has placed top priority on quality design and owner satisfaction. His hands-on approach to major projects is evidence of his commitment to these principles. Regarding Ammann & Whitney, Nick has said "We're one of a small handful of firms focused on complex structural engineering. The more complex the job, the better off someone is using Ammann & Whitney." That 80 percent of the firm's work comes from repeat clients is testament to the quality of the firm's work and its client relationships.

For ARTBA, Nick is currently Senior Vice Chairman, Northeastern Region Vice Chairman, Executive Committee Member serving on the Board of Directors, and Chairman of the International Affairs Advisory Council. He is a Former President of the Planning and Design Division, receiving the Division's 2005 Guy Kelcey Award in 2005.
